MONTHLY FACTSHEET

all data as at 31st December 2023

PORTFOLIO OBJECTIVES AND STRATEGY

The Wise Balanced Model Portfolio is designed for clients who are looking for a total return in line with the MSCI PIMFA Balanced index over a 5 to 10 year period. We aim to achieve this by investing in a select and focussed list of funds (unit trusts, investment trusts and OEICs), with diversification across geography, asset class and investment style. These funds invest in real assets, such as company shares (listed both in the UK and overseas), property, fixed interest and cash. The Portfolio is managed so that 50%-80% is invested in 'medium' risk assets, such as shares and property. 20%-50% is held in assets defined as 'moderate', 'low' or 'minimal' risk, which are mainly comprised of fixed interest (UK government and higher quality company debt) and cash, and any remaining balance up to 10% can be held in higher risk assets, such as shares in specific countries and industries. We consider the portfolio to be suitable for those willing to adopt a balanced risk profile.

MONTHLY COMMENTARY

December was another strong month for investors with decent gains across the investment universe as markets continued to react positively to signs of upcoming rate cuts from central banks hinting at repositioning monetary policy to counter economic slowdown.

Global equities returned 4.14% (in sterling). On a geographical basis, the gains were driven fairly evenly with the US returning 3.94%, Europe returning 4.41%, Japan returning 3.64% and the UK returning 4.44%. Asia ex-Japan lagged slightly with just 2.8%. Emerging markets also narrowly lagged global equities, returning 3.19% - another area of potential future value for more adventurous portfolios.

In fixed income, a drop in yields as the market begins to anticipate even more rate cuts provided a solid upward thrust to bond portfolios which matched or even led equities with corporate bonds returning 4.63%, gilts returning 5.72% and inflation-linked gilts returning an impressive 7.48%. The less-duration sensitive high yield bonds lagged returning just 2.89%.

Real estate, being a highly leveraged asset class, whose returns are reliant on cheap borrowing rates, also had another good month off the back of lower bond yields. Similar to November, while the IA UK direct property sector only saw a 0.1% gain, the UK IMI Liquid Real Estate index saw a substantial 7.06% gain with listed vehicles seeing an influx of liquidity continuing to close NAV (net asset value) discounts.

We have undergone various changes to model portfolios recently with the change in Head of IM role in November, with a new focus on addressing markets on a more global basis, rather than the disproportionate focus on the UK within our PIMFA benchmarks. Additionally, we are now utilising more low fee passive index funds in order to better capture global equity exposure while also reducing underlying fees paid by clients. Both these changes, we hope will help boost long term returns and client outcomes.

The Balanced model returned 3.92% in line with 4.00% for the benchmark (PIMFA Balanced). This return was anchored by a solid return from underlying bond funds despite their lower duration than the benchmark) and propelled by our exposure to global equities. The models small exposure to property in the CT Property Fund also contributed with a return of over 5%.

We have reduced the duration and credit risk in the bond portion of portfolio favouring higher quality and shorter dated securities. We have also moved exposure from infrastructure, multi-asset and some of the active UK and global equity funds into Fidelity Global Equity Index fund, leading to an overall reduction in underlying fees.

ASSET ALLOCATION

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

Portfolio returns from the Wise Investment Model Portfolio Service will be subject to investment market fluctuations and there is no guarantee that the portfolio objectives, including any income targets, will be achieved. Where income is received as dividends, these will be automatically reinvested in the Model Portfolio, which may result in the Model Portfolio returns being higher than what a client portfolio can actually achieve. The performance will be reduced by the withdrawal of income and the impact of the ongoing charges and portfolio transaction costs. The charges can vary. Prices of funds and the income from them may fall as well as rise and investors may not get back the amount originally invested. Consequently, an investment into this portfolio should be considered for a 5 to 10 year period. The funds may invest in higher-yielding or non-investment grade bonds. The funds may hold investments denominated in currencies other than sterling. Changes in exchange rates will cause the value of these investments and the income from them to rise or fall. The funds can use derivatives for investment purposes. These instruments can be more volatile than investment in equities or bonds.
